On January 1, 2010, the Solemnity of Mary, Mother of God, Lisa Marie Johnson was named President and Director of Operations of Mary's Project Catholic Publishing Inc. She is assisted by a Board of Directors and Advisory Council.

Lisa Marie Johnson, a native of New York and Co-founder and Website Developer of Mary's Project, is a Candidate for the M.A. in Moral Theology at Notre Dame Graduate School of Christendom College, Front Royal, Virginia. A Catholic Educator and Certified Catechist through the Archdiocese of Chicago under the formation program of Francis Cardinal George, O.M.I., Lisa Marie is a promoter and speaker on "Modesty in Dress: True Femininity Emulating Our Blessed Mother," with the motto—"Modesty in Dress, Pro-Woman, Pro-Life." Lisa Marie received her B.A. in Communications with a Sports Journalism emphasis from Jacksonville University in Florida, where she was recruited on a tennis scholarship and played four years of N.C.A.A. Division I Tennis, becoming the #1 Singles Player and Team Captain her senior year. With a missionary and journalism spirit from youth, Lisa Marie has traveled to Germany, Switzerland, Austria, Ireland, Scotland, France, Italy, Denmark, Netherlands, England, Croatia, Bosnia-Herzegovina, Canada, and throughout the U.S. Having served Our Lord Jesus Christ and the Roman Catholic Church in Religious Life as a Benedictine Missionary Nun, Lisa Marie brings a richness of experience to the Mary's Project Ministry.

May Jesus and Mary grant continued success to the Mary's Project apostolate in its dedication to promoting ongoing catechesis and formation in our Catholic Faith and Identity, with, through and in Mary!
